COMMUNION OFFERED THIS SUNDAY

While the service itself will be familiar, the distribution of communion will not be at all familiar. With love of neighbor and our people's safety at the forefront of our Bishop's mind, stringent rules have been put into place. Distribution of communion will happen on the way out of the building. Here's what we ask you to do:

- Make a reservation for this service. We are limited to 25 people. Those without reservations are taking a chance at being turned away, however, they will be given priority for next month's Communion service on October 11.
- Please do not kneel in your pew—we do not have people to sanitize it after you leave.
- When your pew is dismissed, use the hand sanitizer placed near the exit and vigorously rub your hands and fingers until dry. Do not wipe the sanitizer off on your clothes! Rub until gone.
- On the table by the door is a container with small cups. Take one cup being careful not to touch any other cup and take it with you outside.
- Once you are outside, down the steps and on the sidewalk, please consume the wafer.
- Dispose of the cup in the wastebasket conveniently placed by the sidewalk.
- You may wish to reenter the church and offer a prayer at the altar rail either in the chapel or at the high altar. You may kneel here.

Leave in peace to love and serve the Lord.

This is what will happen during the service:

- Before the priest sets the table, she will vigorously sanitize her hands and put on gloves.
- The priest sets the table and begins the Great Thanksgiving.
- When the priest says "Christ our Passover ..." the altar guild member comes forward to take the container to the table by the exit.
- The priest lifts up the host and says "The body of Christ..." then lifts up the cup and says "The blood of Christ..." Immediately thereafter, she begins the post communion prayer, says the blessing and begins the dismissal.
- After all have taken the bread, the altar guild member returns with container. After the service, the priest consumes the host, remaining wafers and the wine at the altar.

Will you volunteer to help with a “Pop Up Food Pantry” that St. John Lutheran Church (SJLC) will be sponsoring on Monday, September 14th? “Chop” Child Hunger Outreach Partners orders, pays for and supplies the food and volunteers supply their time and labor. SJLC has volunteers willing to package boxes, however, SJLC especially needs folks able to lift the boxes and carry them to the trunk of families cars. SJLC also needs a few volunteers willing to get close enough to families in their cars to take down a little information. Masks are required to be worn. Pick up of groceries begin at 1:00 p.m. (This is when SJLC needs the strong people!) Unloading of the truck and repackaging the groceries takes place in the morning. In the morning expect to wait as there is no time certain. If this is something that you would be willing to help with please call our church office and let us know. This is just another way that we can help out our community members in need during the pandemic.

Waking up White Community Discussion
Tuesday, September 22, 2-3:30 pm

Join us in a community discussion of Waking Up White, and Finding Myself in the Story of Race by Debby Irving <http://a.co/4jVHSwd>.

We found this to be a great book for white people who want to understand the concepts of White Privilege, and institutional racism. Please join us for our discussion. It's also a great book to recommend to family and friends who are white and are looking for a good place to start thinking about race. Share this link with a friend and join our group together!
