April News

Beloved in Christ,

From my perspective, Holy Week was a glorious, continuous worship experience between two parishes. We began the week with low-key contemplative Evening Prayer. On Wednesday our Youth from both parishes were our worship leaders as they interpreted the Stations of the Cross through the lens of their experience. On Maundy Thursday we gathered at St. John to remember the Last Supper and the new commandment to love one another as Jesus loved us as well as to more fully incorporate three younger members into Holy Communion. Good Friday found us together at Redeemer, with joint choirs and members from both parishes taking part in the Passion, taking us on the journey to the cross. Our Easter Vigil was back at St. John, with our readings illustrated to enhance the experience. On Sunday, both churches experienced the fullness of Easter joy.

I was pleased to learn that our two-parish book group members found their Holy Week experience enhanced by our reading of The Last Week. It was also a delight to learn that our members are feeling more comfortable “at the other church,” as more faces become familiar and relationships continue to build between the two parishes. Both parishes are warmly embracing our youth and supporting them as they prepare to go to Houston in late June. It is my hope that as each church undergoes construction challenges this summer (interior repairs at Redeemer and renewal of the parking lot at St. John’s) we strengthen these relationships. We can do more together as the Body of Christ than we can do apart from one another. Shortly, I hope to re-start our Gather, Eat, Pray community in a monthly pot luck and alternative worship experience. I am exploring a six-week curriculum of “Villains of the Bible.” This will be a less rigorous and more light-hearted Bible study exploring how God uses even villains to further God’s purposes.

I am aware that while from my perspective Holy Week was glorious, for some Holy Week was a source of grief and loss. Not because our Lord died but because Holy Week was different from years past and that our traditions have had to change and be shared. It is important to acknowledge that we are uncomfortable with the changes our financial circumstances have forced upon us and that we are grieving the loss of the familiar. Unless we openly grieve what we have lost we will not be able to see, much less embrace, the opportunities change brings. Please do not hesitate to talk with me or a Vestry member about how our circumstances affect you.

In the middle of April, I leave for Arizona for the CREDO Clergy Conference. The national church offers this conference to clergy in their 5th year of ordained ministry. It is to evaluate ministry thus far, to re-focus where God is calling, and to ensure clergy wellness. I am looking forward to this time away for renewal and refreshment.

As Spring becomes more evident, as we live into being an Easter people, I wish you every blessing.

Yours faithfully,

Pastor Melinda
