Slate of 4 bishops announced for 28th presiding bishop of the Episcopal Church.

Nominees are bishops Barker, Gutiérrez, Rowe and Wright

BY DAVID PAULSEN

Posted Apr 2, 2024

From left, Nebraska Bishop J. Scott Barker, Pennsylvania Bishop Daniel G.P. Gutiérrez, Northwestern Pennsylvania Bishop Sean Rowe, who also serves as bishop provisional of the Diocese of Western New York, and Atlanta Bishop Robert Wright.

[Episcopal News Service] The Episcopal Church’s next presiding bishop will be chosen this June from a slate of four nominees, whose names were released April 2: Nebraska Bishop J. Scott Barker, Pennsylvania Bishop Daniel G.P. Gutiérrez, Atlanta Bishop Robert Wright and Northwestern Pennsylvania Bishop Sean Rowe, who also serves as bishop provisional of the Diocese of Western New York.

Those four bishops – and any additional candidates nominated by petition – will be presented for election at the 81st General Convention, which convenes June 23-28 in Louisville, Kentucky. The nominees’ names will be formally submitted June 25 during a joint session of the House of Bishops and House of Deputies. On June 26, the bishops will elect, and deputies will be asked to confirm, the church’s 28th presiding bishop, who will succeed Presiding Bishop Michael Curry beginning Nov. 1. “We appreciate the many Episcopalians who prayerfully set us on our way to discerning this slate of nominees,” Alaska Bishop Mark Lattime said in a news release announcing the slate. Lat-time and Steve Nishibayashi, a lay leader in the Diocese of Los Angeles, are co-chairs of the Joint Nominating Committee for the Election of the Presiding Bishop. The committee began its work in the fall of 2021.

The committee's slate is marked by geographical and racial diversity, though it includes no women or LGBTQ+ nominees. The nominee bishops also draw on a range of experiences in seeking to become presiding bishop for the office's next nine-year term.

Barker, 60, has led the Omaha-based Diocese of Nebraska since 2011. The diocese's 53 worshipping communities span the full state, where Barker was born and raised. A graduate of Berkeley Divinity School at Yale, Barker was ordained to the priesthood in 1992 and served for 10 years in Omaha and 10 more years in the Diocese of New York before returning to Nebraska as bishop.

Gutiérrez, 59, has led the Philadelphia-based Diocese of Pennsylvania since 2016. It is one of five dioceses in the state. A native of New Mexico, Gutiérrez earned a diocesan certificate in Anglican Studies through the Trinity School for Ministry and has a master's degree in theological studies from St. Norbert College. He was ordained to the priesthood in 2008 in the Albuquerque-based Diocese of the Rio Grande and served there as canon to the ordinary, chief operating officer and chief of staff before he was elected bishop of Pennsylvania.

Rowe, 49, has led the Erie-based Diocese of Northwestern Pennsylvania since 2007, and he also serves as bishop provisional of the Diocese of Western New York through a partnership the dioceses established in 2019. He previously served as bishop provisional of the Diocese of Bethlehem from 2014 to 2018. Originally from western Pennsylvania, Rowe is a Virginia Theological Seminary graduate and was ordained to the priesthood in 2000 in Northwestern Pennsylvania, where he served in congregational ministry until his election as bishop. He currently serves as parliamentarian of the House of Bishops and Executive Council.

Wright, 60, has led the Diocese of Atlanta since 2012. The diocese, based in Georgia's capital city, has 120 worshipping communities across the northern half of the state. A Navy veteran and graduate of Virginia Theological Seminary, Wright was ordained to the priesthood in 1999 in the Diocese of New York. At the time of his election as bishop, he had served the previous 10 years as rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Atlanta. Since 2020, he also has hosted the popular podcast "For People" on faith and life.

"We look forward to presenting these bishops to the convention for its consideration," Nishibayashi said in the news release.

Under the petition process, any bishop or deputy to the 81st General Convention may petition to add a name to the committee's slate after it is released. Those additional nominations must be made April 3-15 with the consent of the bishop being nominated by petition.

The nominees will not make themselves available for news interviews, consistent with past practice in presiding bishop elections, the nominating committee said in its news release. They are scheduled to address bishops and deputies in person June 21 at a two-hour session in Louisville that also will be livestreamed. In addition, the committee has released videos of each nominee “discussing a biblical image or metaphor that resonates with this moment in the life of the church and the role of the presiding bishop.”

View each nominee’s videos on the General Convention Office website.

General Convention, the triennial churchwide gathering, splits its authority between the House of Bishops and House of Deputies, and each house has a distinct role in the selection of a new presiding bishop. In Louisville, the House of Bishops will gather in a closed session June 26 at Christ Church Cathedral for the election and then ask the House of Deputies to vote to confirm the result.

The committee chose the nominees from a list of names submitted by 111 Episcopalians during a two-month window last year. Some names were submitted multiple times, and though bishops were invited to nominate themselves, none did.

Bishops named during the two-month window were asked to enter the discernment process. Those who agreed to be considered were asked to provide biographical information, references and responses to the committee’s questions. They also were interviewed on Zoom. From those candidates, the committee invited a smaller number of bishops to a March 18-23 retreat at the Lake Logan Conference Center in the Diocese of Western North Carolina, after which the committee finalized its slate of nominees.

The 28th presiding bishop is scheduled to take office on Nov. 1, and an installation is scheduled for Nov. 2 at Washington National Cathedral, the traditional seat of the presiding bishop. When the nominating committee released its presiding bishop profile in March 2023, it identified via survey several qualities needed in “a presiding bishop for our time.” Among the most important characteristics are strong leadership, a love of communicating and faithfulness.

Curry, formerly the bishop of North Carolina, is well known for his rousing sermons, and his successor must be “someone who loves to preach” and “who longs to bring a word to The Episcopal Church and to the world,” the committee said. Nominees for presiding bishop should have demonstrated diocesan leadership that is “strategic, articulate, collaborative, committed and gracious” while also “building up the body of Christ.”

The committee also cited faithfulness as a quality frequently identified by survey respondents and interviewees as essential in a presiding bishop. “The next presiding bishop should be one who is deeply grounded in their faith and hope in Christ and steadfastly committed to the living tradition of The Episcopal Church. They should be fully authentic and a person of palpable integrity, always ready to offer ‘an accounting for the hope that is in [them]’” the committee said, quoting 1 Peter.

A history and timeline of Episcopal Church presiding bishops

Curry was elected in 2015 as the church’s first Black presiding bishop. Before him, Presiding Bishop Katharine Jefferts Schori, elected in 2006, was the church’s first female presiding bishop. Her predecessor, Presiding Bishop Frank Griswold, was the first to serve a nine-year term, after the church shortened the presiding bishop’s term from 12 years.

The presiding bishop has a range of responsibilities, as outlined by The Episcopal Church Constitution and Canons. Those include presiding over the House of Bishops, chairing Executive Council, visiting every Episcopal diocese, participating in the ordination and consecration of bishops, receiving and responding to disciplinary complaints against bishops, making appointments to the church’s interim bodies, and “developing policies and strategies for the church and speaking for the church on the policies, strategies and programs of General Convention.”

There are few canonical requirements for presiding bishop candidates. They must be members of the House of Bishops and cannot yet have reached the church’s mandatory retirement age of 72. Nothing prohibits the election of a presiding bishop who would turn 72 during the nine-year term, though historically nominees have been able to complete the full nine years.

“We felt the Holy Spirit’s presence during this process and are prayerfully thankful for the guidance we received,” the Rev. Maureen-Elizabeth Hagan, a deacon on the committee who chairs its nominations subcommittee, said in the April 2 news release.

The Gift of Community Engagement

At the heart of our faith lies a call to be actively involved in the world around us. In this session, you'll have the opportunity to hear from leaders who are making a difference in their communities and explore how you and your faith community can embrace and amplify the transformative power of community engagement.

Facilitator: Canon Sandy Milien, Vincent Chrepta, Doreen Tobin, D. Ed.

Growing God's Garden

In this session you will be introduced to the Growing God's Garden program by Dr. Joshua Davis, a Creation Care effort based on permaculture design (building systems that connect rather than separate, reuse rather than consume, function broadly rather than specialize), and discover ways that parishes can incorporate these principles into their ministries.

Facilitators: The Rev. Andrew VanBuren, the Rev. Midge Pendergast

How Does Church Work?

Share your experiences serving on Vestry, hear from fellow Vestry members, and learn more about the ins-and-outs of Vestry leadership in this two-session presentation. This session is intended for current and hopeful Vestry members who have not yet participated in these sessions. Vestry members who have not yet attended this training are encouraged to register. Note: Double session

Facilitators: Canon Steve Baker, Sara Grady

Leaders & Liberators

"Leaders & Liberators" is a dramatic reenactment of the story inspired by observance of 111 years since the death of Harriet Tubman, famed Underground Rail conductor, who attended an imagined meeting in Cape May, New Jersey on Independence Day, 1872. Harriet Tubman met with Stephen Smith and William Whipper, courageous PA conductors and agents who led hundreds – possibly thousands — of formerly enslaved Africans to freedom through the network of the Underground Railroad, from the 1830s through the 1850s. They reflect on their experiences as abolitionists. The project, an outgrowth from the 2022 General Convention resolution encouraging every diocese to honor Tubman's 110th death anniversary resulted in this impactful production by members of the Diocese of Central Pennsylvania and funded by a grant from the Province III.

Facilitators: TBD

Life in the Age: Being Honest about Heaven and Hell

Our practical conversations about heaven and hell are often influenced by TV, movies, and literature. But what do Christians actually believe about what happens when we die? Join us for this workshop where we identify common tropes about heaven and hell and talk faithfully about the hope we have for life with God in the age to come.

Facilitator: The Very Rev. Dennis Reid, Episcopal Diocese of Idaho

Mental Health First Aid Information Session

Come and learn about Mental Health First Aid, a powerful training program in the diocese that your parish may want to consider presenting to enhance the impact of its ministry. More information about this program available: <https://www.mentalhealthfirstaid.org/take-a-course/what-you-learn>.

Facilitator: The Rev. Michele Causton

Parochial Report Mysteries Explained

In this session you will learn more about The Episcopal Church's Parochial Report, a canonically required annual report from your parish to the wider church. You will hear from parish leaders about this details of this report as well as share with other parish leaders your experiences in completing this important work.

Facilitators: Jim Harding and Paula Lapinski

The Power of Storytelling

Storytelling is foundational to our faith as it enables us to share and bear witness to the work of the Divine in our lives. In this interactive session, you will learn and practice different story-sharing techniques and explore how to incorporate these into your faith communities.

Facilitator: Canon Sandy Milien

“Rootedness”

Join the Racial Justice and Reconciliation Task Force to delve beneath the surface of our lives and our church community to uncover the deep-rooted beliefs, biases, and systems that perpetuate racial injustice and hatred that divide us. Through thoughtful reflection and group discussions, we will discern what needs to be uprooted within ourselves and our communal spaces to pave the way for genuine reconciliation and building of the Beloved Community.

Facilitator: Judith “Judie” Dickerson, Racial Justice & Reconciliation Task Force Member

Reading Parish Financial Statements

No matter who you are or what role you’re serving in at your parish, understanding parish financial statements is important and sometimes confusing. In this session you will learn what to look for in these statements through an interactive session and discussion of a parish case study that will leave you more informed about how these statements can be used.

Facilitator: Jim Harding

Safe Church Information Session

Seeking an overview of Safe Church? Confused by Safe Church details? Wondering who at your parish should complete Safe Church certification? This session will answer these and other questions as well as your own questions about the Safe Church program.

Facilitator: Tim Wagner

Scripture Reflection

Reflection on the Gospel by Nancy R Blakely from Daily Feast: Meditations from Feasting on the Word

Jesus suddenly appeared in the midst of his early followers. He brought change to their lives as they moved from (1) fright and alarm to (2) joy mixed with disbelief and puzzlement to (3) open and understanding minds and hearts. That marked shift in the core of their beings led them forth to take great risks, witnessing to the risen Christ. Jesus did not bring them security. Rather, they risked all in following his call. For they had come to understand that Jesus had conquered the ultimate threat, death itself, and their fears were groundless. Jesus' words "Peace be with you!" came to fruition in their hearts. The disciples experienced a triadic movement in response to meeting the resurrected Jesus. What risks are you willing to take as testimony to the risen Christ?
